Stargirl was published a couple of years after the April 1999, Columbine High School shootings in Colorado, in which 15 people were killed, most of them students. Although Spinelli's most direct inspiration for the character of Stargirl was his wife, Eileen, the novel's emphasis on kindness and acceptance also brings to mind the sense of fear evoked by the Columbine massacre and similar incidents of mass violence at the time, and student-initiated efforts to combat them.
